Course Description

In this course, students develop their ability to use writing to explore ideas as well as to communicate what they have learned in a variety of contexts. The principles and skills students learn are widely applicable and will improve their communication in business and personal settings as well as at school. This course focuses particular attention on writing to thrive in a writing-intensive curriculum. Students learn strategies for combining experience with analysis and reflection in essay writing, managing the writing process, and writing persuasively. Particular emphasis is given to the process of revision.

Learning Outcomes

After completing this course, you will be able to:

- Analyze purpose, audience, context and conventions in comprehending and creating texts in various genres for different situations.
- Engage in composition as an iterative process and applies a variety of strategies to conceptualize, develop and revise compositions.
- Develop knowledge of linguistic structures, including grammar, syntax, and punctuation through practice in composing and revising.
- Self-assess to leverage strengths and address challenges for ongoing improvement as a writer.

Learning Strategies and Resources

Some learning activities, assignments and deadlines will vary depending on the delivery format of the course and may differ slightly from what is presented in this document.

The following teaching and learning techniques are used to meet course objectives: workshops, class discussions, D2L discussion boards, lectures, small group work, conferences, at home and in class assignments, critical reading, online exercise resources, learning from others through peer editing, and lots and lots of writing. Students should expect to write and to rewrite extensively in this course. Students will demonstrate learning outcomes through drafting and revising papers, discussion board postings, peer revision, and other assignments.

Required Readings

Books and learning materials are available at the DePaul bookstore, at <http://depaul-loop.bncollege.com>, or through alternative sources.

You will be required to use a recent edition of Hacker and Sommers's A Writer's Reference. Students who do not have the 8th or 9th edition with 2016 MLA Update will need to use Purdue OWL for the most recent citation format.

Graff, Gerald and Birkenstein, Cathy. They Say/I Say: The Moves that Matter in Academic Writing, 4th Edition. WW Norton, ISBN: 978-0-393-63167-8.

Assigned selections from SCPS Writing Guide.

Additional readings available on Electronic Reserve, at the DePaul Library. Login to Ares Course Reserves and select Essay Writing.

Recommended:

If English is not your native language and you struggle issues like article and pronoun usage, you may want to also purchase the ESL Supplement for A Writer's Reference, ISBN# 0312-45233-0.

If you would like to read more about the craft of writing, the following are both readable and full of useful tips:

Assessment of Student Learning

Grading Practices

While early drafts are opportunities to grope around and experiment and will not be as polished or well-developed as final drafts, they should represent your best effort to and should not be stream of consciousness, a collection of notes, or a half-done essay.

Every draft should be spell checked before you turn it in. Final drafts will be evaluated using the Grading Rubric for Papers found at the SCPS Writing Guide website.

Part of the work of this class is to make sure that you understand what plagiarism is and how to avoid it, so be sure to ask if you have any questions about it. We will discuss how to cite sources and avoid plagiarism in the course.

Students must complete and submit all first and second drafts of essays to earn credit for final drafts.

The discussion boards will be used for sharing ideas and drafts; learning about and trying out new writing strategies; reviewing grammar, sentence structure and composition rules; and giving and receiving peer feedback.

Much of your learning in this class will happen as a result of your participation in the discussion boards. Failure to participate actively in the discussion boards is akin to absence from a face-to-face class and can be grounds for failure of the course.

Distribution of Grade Points

Graded Assignments	Percentage of Final Grade
Final Cause & Effect Essay or Division Essay	30%
Final Rhetorical Analysis or Problem-Solution Essay	30%
