Winter Term 2025 Course Descriptions

CCH 222 – Managing Difficult Conversations (former title, Facilitative Dialogue) – 4 credit hours – All quarter (1/4/25 – 3/21/25)

This course aims to help students manage difficult conversations by examining the primary role of emotions that often derail these situations and prevent resolution or solutions. These situations can include examples such as confronting an uncooperative coworker, assessing alleged wrongdoing by a student, addressing resistance in a patient, providing feedback to a friend, or meeting the needs of a disgruntled customer. Students will understand how their own behavioral and verbal actions are important determinants in the direction, duration, and consequences of the interaction. Given the potential for us to be hostilely confronted, and for those whom we are talking with to act defensively, we often have to manage our own emotions while quickly trying to assess the situation. Students will learn, develop, and practice a framework to more effectively manage these difficult conversational situations. This course is appropriate for those in professional settings such as human resources, patient- and service-oriented industries, counseling, education, and leadership development, in addition to personal settings where managing difficult conversations is necessary.

CCS 281 - Rats in the City (Liberal Arts in Action) – 6 credit hours – All quarter (1/4/25 – 3/21/25)

This course directs students to analyze an engaging topic (here, urban rats) from multiple perspectives in the liberal arts. Students strengthen their problem-solving skills by drawing upon the ideas and methods of three different liberal arts disciplines. The learning activities clarify how the liberal arts can be put into action to solve problems. The course strengthens students' development of critical thinking and academic writing across the curriculum. Students also will learn about resources that will be useful for their academic success at DePaul.

Domestic Travel – Spring Term 2025 (enrollment begins in February 2025)

Experiential Learning Practicum – Topic: The Wisdom and Power of Horses – Online Hybrid Spring Term 2025 (enrollment begins in February 2025) – Day Retreat & fee: May 17, 2025 - $100

The lives and destinies of humans and horses have been intricately interwoven since the beginning of history. In fact, horses are credited with being the species that most-revolutionized human culture. Horses have followed us onto the battlefield and carried us on life's journey for six-thousand years. Now that we no longer utilize these magnificent creatures as our 'beasts of burden', do horses have another destiny with regard to humankind? Currently, horses are partnering with people in vast ways, from the treatment of physical disabilities such as MS to helping combat veterans with PTSD. This course explores the ways in which horses can help over civilized people connect with the wisdom and rhythms of the natural world and the role that horses (and other animals) play in human health and healing. Utilizing readings, films, instructor presentations, as preparation, the course highlight will be a day-long experiential learning retreat working with horses. Students will have a powerful, unique opportunity to explore ways in which horses facilitate healing, our connection to our instincts (and the natural world) and expand non-verbal awareness. No prior experience is necessary. Retreat Experience & cost:

May 17, 2025 - $100. The highlight of this course is a day-long retreat with the instructor in southeast Wisconsin – just over the Illinois border about 1 hour from Chicago. The retreat will focus on connecting to nature and the horses with a variety of activities throughout the day. Continental breakfast, refreshments and lunch are provided.

You might qualify for a travel fee scholarship. Simply submit FAFSA at studentaid.gov and submit the General and SCPS applications on Scholarship Connect at depaul.academicworks.com.

Travel and Learn in Boston – Spring Term 2025 – Travel May 2025 (enrollment begins in February 2025)

Boston is a city of many faces. Culturally and educationally, it is no doubt a world-class city, yet it competes with New York City and Philadelphia for the title of best place to experience American history and art. Boston has fame for the riches made by old money profits but also for its colorful mob history. With such internal paradoxes and external competitors, why choose a travel course to Boston? Here is why: In this domestic travel course, participants will walk the famous freedom trail and other historic sites, visit Boston's famous art collections, and experience its diverse neighborhoods like Boston Common, Beacon Hill, and the North End. Issues such as Boston's immigrant populations, its fame as a seat of American higher education, its connection to events in American history, and its stake in the meaning of freedom and democracy will be discussed in the preparatory classes as well as in post travel learning as students work on individual projects. This high impact travel course involves online classes preparing for and debriefing from a long weekend— travel Thursday, May 1st thru Sunday, May 4th and will be spent learning on site in the city of Boston. An additional course fee of $275.00 will be applied to each student's account for group admissions costs and students will cover their own airfare, food, and accommodation expenses while in Boston.

You might qualify for a travel fee scholarship. Simply submit FAFSA at studentaid.gov and submit the General and SCPS applications on Scholarship Connect at depaul.academicworks.com.

Mindfulness Retreat – Spring Term 2025 – Travel May/June 2025 (enrollment begins in February 2025)

Mindfulness meditation is a popular practice that can help build our attention and reduce our reactivity to life stressors. It is widely studied by neuroscientists, psychologists, philosophers, and others interested in a contemporary, secular approach to meditation.

This course will provide students with both academic knowledge and first-hand experiential understanding of mindfulness meditation. Students will focus on developing personal and professional skills through reflection and engagement with course content. It provides students with a deep understanding of mindfulness meditation, its various techniques and its benefits.

This online-offsite hybrid course is a four-credit hour class and includes an in-person four-day mindfulness meditation retreat at Starved Rock State Park in Utica, IL – May 29 – June 1, 2025. In addition to the class's regular tuition, students pay a $775 fee that covers three nights of housing at Starved Rock Lodge and two group meals.

You might qualify for a travel fee scholarship. Simply submit FAFSA at studentaid.gov and submit the General and SCPS applications on Scholarship Connect at depaul.academicworks.com.
